

For Homeowners Affected by Hurricanes Harvey, Irma, or Maria

Mortgage Help

Federally regulated Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have come together to get the word out about mortgage relief options for those affected by natural disasters, including Hurricanes Harvey, Irma, and Maria. Our goal is to make sure you have time to focus on your safety. Here is what you need to do to get help.

What help is available?

If you are affected by the recent hurricanes, you are eligible now to temporarily stop making your monthly mortgage payment for three-month intervals (up to 12 months). At the end of this temporary payment break:

- You won't have late fees.
- You won't have delinquencies reported to the credit bureaus.
- You won't have to catch up on all of your payments at once.
- You can work with your servicer to resume making a mortgage payment that is similar to what you paid before the disaster. Or if you need additional assistance, you can work with your servicer on options to keep your home.

1 Contact your mortgage servicer (the company where you send your monthly payments) as soon as possible to let them know about your current circumstances. The telephone number and mailing address of your mortgage servicer should be listed on your monthly mortgage statement. You also can look it up on the Mortgage Bankers Association website at <https://www.mba.org/news-research-and-resources/hurricane-relief>.

2 If you are having difficulty contacting your mortgage servicer, contact the Homeowner's HOPE[®] Hotline at 1-888-995-HOPE (4673) for assistance and FREE confidential support from a HUD-approved housing counselor.
