Section 3.01. Certificate Account; Security Distributions. On or before the issuance of the Certificates, Fannie Mae shall either (i) open with an Eligible Depository one or more trust accounts in the name of the Trustee that shall collectively be the "Certificate Account," (ii) in lieu of maintaining any such account or accounts, maintain the Certificate Account by means of appropriate entries on its books and records designating all amounts credited thereto in respect of the GNMA Securities and all investments of any such amounts as being held by it in its capacity as Trustee for the benefit of the Holders of Certificates or (iii) maintain the Certificate Account in the form of any combination of accounts or book entries described in clauses (i) and (ii) above. Any manner or manners in which the Certificate Account is maintained may at any time be changed without notice to, or the approval of, Holders of Certificates so long as funds held in the Trust Fund by, or for the account of, the Trustee shall at all times be identified. To the extent that the Certificate Account is maintained by the Trustee in the manner provided for in clause (ii) above, all references herein to deposits and withdrawals from the Certificate Account shall be deemed to refer to credits and debits to the related books of the Trustee.

Fannie Mae shall deposit in the Certificate Account all Security Distributions received by it as Trustee hereunder. All Security Distributions deposited from time to time in the Certificate Account and all investments made with such moneys shall be held by the Trustee in the Certificate Account as part of the Trust Fund as herein provided, subject to withdrawal by Fannie Mae for the purposes set forth in Section 3.03.

Section 3.02. Investments. All or a portion of amounts in the Certificate Account maintained with an Eligible Depository pursuant to clause (i) in Section 3.01 shall be invested and reinvested at the discretion and direction of Fannie Mae in one or more Eligible Investments bearing interest or sold at a discount. Any investments in obligations of Fannie Mae shall be made on a basis substantially comparable to that available in an arm's-length transaction. No investment shall mature later than the Business Day immediately preceding the Distribution Date upon which the related amounts are required to be applied to distributions on the Certificates pursuant to this Series Supplement, except that any investment in the federal funds market or on which the Eligible Depository, in its commercial capacity, or Fannie Mae is the obligor may mature on the related Distribution Date. No Eligible Investment may be sold while in the Certificate Account except to the extent that Fannie Mae believes that a sale of an Eligible Investment is desirable because of the possibility of a default by the obligor thereon.

All amounts held by the Trustee pursuant to clause (ii) of Section 3.01 may be commingled with other funds at any time held by Fannie Mae and applied, subject to its obligations herein contained, in its normal business operations or otherwise. Under no circumstances shall Fannie Mae be accountable to the Trust Fund for interest in respect of any amounts so commingled and applied and such amounts shall not be credited to the Certificate Account.

Section 3.03. Withdrawal from the Certificate Account. Amounts credited to the Certificate Account on any Distribution Date shall be withdrawn by Fannie Mae for application towards the distribution to Certificateholders of the Class Distribution Amount. In the event that amounts shall remain in the Certificate Account on any Distribution Date following distribution of the Class Distribution Amount, such amounts may be withdrawn by Fannie Mae as compensation for its administrative and guaranty obligations or as a reimbursement to Fannie Mae for any advance by it pursuant to such guaranty obligations under Section 3.04 hereof; provided, however, that amounts may be withdrawn only to the extent that, after giving effect to such withdrawal, the Outstanding Certificate Principal Amount is not greater than the sum of (i) the aggregate Security Principal Balances of the GNMA Securities as of such Distribution Date and (ii) any amount remaining on deposit in the Certificate Account after giving effect to such withdrawal. Any amount so withdrawn shall no longer be a part of the Trust Fund.

Section 3.04. Distributions on Certificates; Fannie Mae Guaranty. Beginning in the month of the initial Distribution Date, Fannie Mae shall calculate the Principal Distribution Amount for the following Distribution Date which shall be equal to the sum of (i) as to each GNMA Security for which a pool factor was available, the amount of principal reflected in such pool factor as being distributable in respect of such GNMA

Security during such month, (ii) as to each GNMA Security for which a pool factor was not available, the amount of scheduled principal shall be calculated by Fannie Mae as being distributable during such month on the basis of the assumed amortization schedules of the underlying Mortgage Loans, pursuant to the assumptions specified below and (iii) as to each month following the month of the initial Distribution Date, the excess of (x) the distributions of principal of the GNMA Securities due to be received during the prior month and received during the current month over (y) the amounts of principal calculated as distributable during such prior month in accordance with clauses (i) and (ii) above. In computing the amount of scheduled principal distributable during the month in respect of a GNMA Security relating to a Single-Family Pool, the amortization schedules for such calculation will be prepared on the assumption that such GNMA Security is a single mortgage loan which amortizes on a level installment basis and (i) has a principal balance equal to the Security Principal Balance of the GNMA Security, (ii) had an original term to maturity of 360 months (except in the case of a GNMA Security backed by 15-year mortgage loans), (iii) has a remaining term to maturity equal to the remaining term to maturity of the latest maturing mortgage loan underlying such GNMA Security at the origination of such GNMA Security and (iv) bears an interest rate 0.50% per annum in excess of the pass-through rate of such GNMA Security, in the case of a GNMA Security originated under the GNMA I Program, or 1.50% per annum in excess of the pass-through rate of such GNMA Security, in the case of a GNMA Security originated under the GNMA II Program. In the case of any GNMA Security relating to a Multifamily Pool, Fannie Mae will create amortization schedules by using available remaining term to maturity and interest rate information and adjusting such remaining term to maturity to the current month. Fannie Mae's determination of the principal payments by the methodology described above will be final and binding. Promptly following the calculation of the Principal Distribution Amount for a Distribution Date, Fannie Mae shall calculate the Class Distribution Amount for such Distribution Date.

On each Distribution Date, Fannie Mae shall withdraw from the Certificate Account the Class Distribution Amount so determined by it and shall distribute or cause to be distributed to each Certificateholder of record on the preceding Record Date in Federal Funds such Certificateholder's Percentage Interest in the applicable Class Distribution Amount. In the event that the amount on deposit in the Certificate Account on any Distribution Date shall be less than the applicable Class Distribution Amount, Fannie Mae shall provide from its own funds the amount of any insufficiency so that the full Class Distribution Amount is distributed on such Distribution Date. Any distribution of principal pursuant to the preceding sentence shall be deemed to be part of a Principal Distribution Amount for purposes of all future calculations of Certificate Principal Factors. Fannie Mae guarantees to the Holders of Certificates that (i) the amount distributed by Fannie Mae in respect thereof on each Distribution Date will include an Interest Distribution Amount which is equal to one month's interest on the Outstanding Certificate Principal Amount at the pass-through rate borne by the underlying Fannie Mae Securities, and (ii) principal will be distributed on each Distribution Date in an amount equal to the Principal Distribution Amount, the aggregate of such principal distributions over the life of the Certificates being equal to the Original Certificate Principal Amount.
